Why a Public Commitment?

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

This past Sunday, The People of Hope received seven new Publicly Committed members. Other than now having the right to vote, their day to day lives will be very much like they were before they made their commitment. One may ask, then why make a commitment? Part of the answer can be found in Ralph Waldo Emerson's famous quote, "It's not the destination, it's the journey". Indeed, the journey of the years spent trying to discern if God is calling me to community by appropriating community teachings, participating in community gatherings, being part of a small group, offering hospitality, being generous with one's time and financial resources, and giving and receiving support is in itself already living out our commitment.

However, it is about more than just the journey. To publicly state that this is where I wish to live my life and these are people I wish to live my life with makes all the difference. By making a Public Commitment I'm saying that I'm no longer hedging my bet and despite whatever may come our way I'm committed to making our life together work not just for my benefit but for the benefit of all my brothers and sisters. Therefore, the Public Commitment I make today is also a commitment to the future generations of the community and a commitment to continue the mission to which God has called us. May our heavenly Father continue to give us the grace to remain faithful to Him and one another.

Congratulations, to Justin and Delphine Anderson, Mark and Anne Cantine, James and Danielle Dill and Fr. John Gordon. We are so blessed by your commitment and in turn commit ourselves to you.

Be still before the Lord and wait patiently for Him

PSALM 37:7

ASK THE HOLY SPIRIT

Advent is a penitential season and also a season for great hope. So, if you are feeling anger or unrest, call upon the Holy Spirit to give you peace. If you are feeling sorrow, ask for joy. If you are feeling lonely, ask for compassion for others. Ask for the Holy Spirit today like you do during Pentecost. The Holy Spirit is there for you every single day. Like the little child who woke up this morning and saw little treats in their shoes for the feast of St. Nicolas .... in your prayer time, look for the treats that I will pour down as you cry out to me

COMMENTS FROM FR. JACQUES PHILIPPE ON PSALM 37

Psalm 37:7-11 “Be still before the Lord and wait patiently for Him. Fret not yourself over him who prospers in his way over the man who carries out evil devices. Refrain from anger and forsake wrath. Fret not yourself, it tends only to evil, for the wicked shall be cut off but those who wait for the Lord shall possess the land.” “This Psalm invites those who encounter such situations not to be eaten up by anger and bitterness which are only hurtful to themselves. The triumph of evil is only temporary. Remain calm and confident. Place all your hope in the Lord. Evil will disappear, the meek will inherit the earth and will delight in great peace. Place your hope in God. Continue to be humble and meek. Calm and peaceful. Preserve in doing good and you will triumph.” So Lord, we take a moment to be still. We ask that you would help us to shed the scales of anger and pessimism, the scales of fear and anxiety, the scales of shame and hopelessness, the scales of weariness, frustration and discouragement. Lord, we ask that your light may shine through us so that we would not conceal you but rather reveal you to those around us. Amen.

FALL ON YOUR KNEES

You say, 'Lord, what should I be doing? I am concerned about many things. What should I be doing?' Well, I'll tell you what you should NOT be doing. You should not be going to Washington to try and fix the government. You should not be going to the universities and to the media to try and fix all of that. You should not do that. So, Lord what should I be doing? You should fall on your knees. You should turn to me, fall on your knees, raise your hands and pray .... and give your life to me. Give your whole heart, soul, mind and strength to me. Love me, love your neighbor as yourself. Love your family. Love your brothers and sisters. Love your coworkers. That is what I call you to do. And I tell you, the peace that passes understanding will fall afresh on you and you will do well and you will be doing what I have called you to do.

LORD, LET US NOT FORGET YOUR PRESENCE

During this season I am very near to you. I am near to you in your joys and sorrows and victories. I am near to you in your sadness and your disappointments. I am near to you in your despair and weakness and sin, in your losses and your grief. I am very aware of all of these. So look up, says the Lord, I am here in all your circumstances. So Lord, we turn to you in all our circumstances .... in our joys and sorrows and weakness and despair and even our sin Lord. We turn to you to receive your great mercy. You are our loving Father. We want to draw close to you. Lord help us when we fail to look up and recognize you .... when we fail to be aware of your presence, of your walking with us in our victories and sorrows and joys. Lord, help us to turn to you, help us not to forget your presence and power in our life.

WORDS WITH THE ARTISTS

AN INTERVIEW WITH ALICIA & JOE GREEY

This interview has been shortened and edited for space. To watch the full interview visit our Youtube Video here.

What are your thoughts on Advent? How did you approach writing songs specifically for the Advent Season?

ALICIA: It's a very special season and in my heart I think musicians, in general, really do connect with that deepness of waiting and that's why there is so much rich music in this particular season. But for me it was a real chance to to rediscover some of the things that I love about Advent.

It's been a different season of waiting than I guess we've ever had before. What was the process like of continuing your musical practice and continuing your songwriting practice during this year? I feel like it's come with some particularly specific-to-this-year kind of hurdles.

ALICIA: It has really pushed me to recognize how much I love sharing prayer with everyone and having different opportunities to be in Adoration, to be in Mass, to sing with people in different ways.

Uh, I'm very introverted; I hate being in front of people.

I wouldn't have guessed that.

JOE: (laughing) It's a very well-kept secret of hers--

ALICIA: Yeah, it's very hidden, but I do, I actually don't enjoy being on stage. This year has made me realize how much sharing and prayer outweighs that and all the, sometimes fear, sometimes nerve, sometimes exhaustion, that comes with that. I love praying with people and that's really it it's not about leading, it's not about being in charge, or picking the songs or getting to do the Mass, it's just about being with the people and that there's a blessing in each of those and it really pushed me to do different things.

During Tridium week I released one song a day through Facebook and, you know, now doing things like this which maybe a couple years ago I would have said no to and I think it's been a good realization that the prayer is so much more important than everything else just getting to offer the songs because they're not really mine.

"I THINK IT'S BEEN A GOOD REALIZATION THAT THE PRAYER IS SO MUCH MORE IMPORTANT...JUST GETTING TO OFFER THE SONGS BECAUSE THEY'RE NOT REALLY MINE"

“OF THE FATHER’S LOVE BEGOTTEN”

Of the Father's love begotten
ere the worlds began to be,
He is Alpha and Omega,
he the Source, the Ending he,
Of the things that are,
that have been,
and that future years shall see,
Evermore and evermore!

This is he who seers and sages
sang of old with one accord,
Whom the writings of the prophets promised in their faithful word;
Now he shines, the long expected;
let creation praise its Lord,
Evermore and evermore!

O ye heights of heav'n, adore him;
angel hosts, his praises sing
All dominions, bow before him
and extol our God and King;
Let no tongue on earth be silent,
ev'ry voice in concert ring,
Evermore and evermore!

Christ, to thee, with God the Father,
and, O Holy Ghost, to thee,
Hymn and chant and high
thanksgiving
and unending praises be,
Honor, glory, and dominion
and eternal victory,
Evermore and evermore!

ALICIA: "This song the text is taken from my favorite Christmas song. It's from the hymn "Of the Father's Love Begotten" and the text is actually from around 400 A.D. It's one of the oldest Christmas texts we have.

The original text was used to remind the church at the time that Christ was not created but begotten. That he is one with the Father and with the Spirit. And it's such a beautiful, prayerful text and I hope that first you go and listen to the original chant because it's glorious and beautiful but second that in this ancient text with just a couple days old melody the beauty of the love of the Father and the Son is brought to you and reminded to you in your heart of how close that love is and how much more real that love is than anything else that we have.

That realness of love is what we celebrate in Christmas. I hope and pray that that real true love is very present to you both in this song and in this season."

JESUS AT THE HEART OF THE VIRUS

AN ENCOURAGEMENT FROM A NURSE WORKING WITH COVID-19 PATIENTS

WRITTEN BY JANE APUZZO

I am a hospice nurse at Morristown Medical Center, so in March when the pandemic was really starting to pick up I was asked if I would be willing to work on a covid unit, and I'm going to share a bit about this experience. This new unit was intended for patients who, for the most part, were not going to survive. My initial thought was to very quickly decline, but I soon felt the Lord leading me to accept this new challenge. So I said yes, during a time when great stress and anxiety was gripping everyone at the hospital as we all tried to wrap our heads around what would be our new norm.

Very quickly, nurses and doctors from all parts of Atlantic Health were thrown into these units with very little training, to help patients with a disease we knew very little about. Units were converted overnight to negative pressure rooms to try to protect the staff from this deadly disease and somehow, in the midst of it all, I felt a great peace in my heart about the decision.

Stepping onto our new unit with a group of staff members who mostly did not know each other would normally be a quite stressful experience, but every day as I worked on that floor I found myself feeling grateful for the amazing group of nurses we had, and the group only continued to amaze me each day after. We all really enjoyed getting to know each other and the great comradery that was built really made what we did a little bit easier.

"I believe that the Lord would never leave these patients to suffer alone, but would stay at their bedsides holding their hands to glory".

One of the hardest parts of this experience was that these people who were dying did not get to have their families by their side. Staff did everything we could to ease our patients' suffering, but it only added to the stress. I found, however, that all the nurses truly cared about their patients and would often put their own health at risk to spend extra time in these rooms comforting and caring for their patients.

As a hospice nurse, I have seen many beautiful deaths where I know the Lord was present in these rooms. One patient I had in the last year was a man in his 50's with cancer; he did not have any family here and very few visitors. The priest came every day to see him and give him communion, and during his last day on this earth as I was spending time with him, I noticed that between tremendous pain and suffering, he would have moments where his face started beaming as he looked up. I know he was seeing the Lord right there in that room! After his death I was speaking with the priest who visited him daily, and he told me that he asked this man how he was doing one day, to which he response was, "the nights get very lonely, but Jesus comes and sits with me." That phrase often came back to me when I felt sadness that our patients had to be alone, and I believe that the Lord would never leave these patients to suffer alone, but would stay at their bedsides holding their hands to glory.

I believe the Lord is working in many different areas of each of our lives through this trial, and we may never know all the good that has come from this tragedy. I ask you to continue to pray for all the healthcare workers, as I know many doctors and nurses have and will experience some form of post traumatic stress from the things they saw and experienced. Thank you for all the prayers, I know I have drawn great grace and strength from them. Stay well!

SPIRITUAL COMMUNION

THOUGHTS ON THE REMOTE CHURCH EXPERIENCE

INTERVIEW WITH PETE
TOMASELLO

Q: WHAT DO YOU MISS MOST ABOUT PHYSICALLY ATTENDING MASS?

A: We miss receiving Jesus' body, blood, soul and divinity in the Eucharist. Also, every Sunday, we would attend the same mass as my parents and have brunch at their house afterwards. We really miss this family time.

Q: WHAT HAVE YOU BEEN DOING TO HELP MAINTAIN YOUR FAITH LIFE ON SUNDAYS? HAS THERE BEEN ANY TECHNOLOGY INVOLVED WITH THAT?

A: We use technology to attend our home parish (Little Flower) mass every Sunday. It is so nice to see a familiar setting and familiar faces. Besides the normal homily, our pastor, Father Andy, sends a video with a message every Sunday that warms our hearts. It usually contains "spiritual homework" for the upcoming week.

We've been hosting and attending regular virtual Lord's Days since the quarantine began. We start with the prayers, break for dinner, and come back on for fellowship and entertainment after dinner. It has been an amazing way to use technology to stay connected

Q: WHY IS IT IMPORTANT TO PRAY FOR A SPIRITUAL COMMUNION?
WHAT HAS YOUR EXPERIENCE BEEN LIKE WITH PRAYING FOR IT?

A: We feel that God has provided the grace that has been needed for every moment and every challenge. We've had our breakdown moments like everyone else, but they end on our knees which is where we should have been to begin with. We can only describe this grace as sacramental grace, even with the absence of the physical sacraments. God yearns to be near us more than we could ever yearn to be near Him and so he is breaking the boundaries of time and space to be present in our lives.

"GOD YEARNS TO BE NEAR US MORE THAN
WE COULD EVER
YEARN TO BE NEAR HIM"

The Tomasello family getting ready for Mass at home

Q: WHAT ARE YOU MOST LOOKING FORWARD TO AFTER THIS "SELF-ISOLATION" ENDS?

A: Going to mass and confession for starters. Then, hiring a baby sitter and going on date night without the kids! Maybe we could combine both into one date. We also would like to stay at a beach house with the kids for a few days.

Special Thanks

A PERSONAL EXPERIENCE OF PRONTO 2020

Pronto 2020 brought together thousands of young professionals from across the globe

to join in a unified two-hour virtual conference. Delivered in real time, the conference spanned 12 different time zones and drew close to two thousand participants from Sword of the Spirit communities around the world. The content of the conference included live praise and worship, interactive icebreakers, small group discussions, and an exhortation delivered by none other than Anton Colella. Through his talk, Anton effectively inspired us to seek freedom from fear and in that freedom allow the Lord to continually guide our paths in whatever stage of life we are in.

Being able to connect with other young professionals from across the world including my own home community in Glasgow while actively living and serving with the People of Hope in New Jersey rekindled in me the mission and vision of the Sword of the Spirit. One of the most striking ways this happened for me was during our times of praise and worship. Knowing that two thousand people from across the world were unified in charismatic praise and worship reminded me that although we are separated by time and dispersed throughout the world, we are unified through Christ and it is for him and in him that we do all things. It felt like the doors of the upper room were being flung open for us to claim freedom from fear and to go forth boldly into the world knowing we are supported by brothers and sisters all over the world. It is clear that this is just the beginning, that the Lord has reignited the flame, and He is calling us onward and upward.

Pronto was emceed by our very own Michela Brooks here in New Jersey and Daniel Dunkl in Vienna

IGNITE SUMMER EVENTS

ELEMENTARY, MIDDLE & HIGH SCHOOL YOUTH EVENTS
HELD AT KOINONIA ACADEMY RUN BY IGNITE YOUTH MINISTRY

Like most events these days, Camp Hope was cancelled this year due to Covid-19. The Camp team still had a deep desire to put on some type of event for our youth. With the help of incredible volunteers, teens and adults alike, we were able to host three awesome events for our elementary, middle & high school youth right at Koinonia Academy under a huge tent. Although we could not make it out to the beautiful rolling hills in Tunkhannock, PA, we were so grateful to have a mini camp experience with the 100 youth who attended.

ELEMENTARY

ELEMENTARY CHILD'S PERSPECTIVE

Q: What was your favorite part of the event for you? Why?

A: I really enjoyed all the games and activities, but my favorite part was being able to see all my friends, go to Confession, and spend time in Adoration.

Q: What was the talk/witness about & what was one thing you took away from it?

A: Mr. Paul Scarfone was talking about Friendship. One thing I took away from the talk is that you can pick your friends. You don't need a lot of friends, you just need to surround yourself with 4 to 5 good friends who will have a good influence on you. You might keep these friends for the rest of your life!

Q: Even though we had to wear masks & social distance all day, what was one thing you are grateful for because of this event?

A: Even though the Ignite Day wasn't the same as Camp Hope, I think all of the leaders did a really good job putting Camp Hope into the few hours we had. I am really grateful for the opportunity to go to Confession and experience faith and friendship like I do at Camp Hope! - 5th Grade Boy

MIDDLE SCHOOL

MIDDLE SCHOOLER'S PERSPECTIVE

When I first heard camp was not happening I was really disappointed. When my mom told me that there was going to be a camp day I was not really looking forward to it because I knew it was not going to be the same. But, it actually was really fun and I had a great time. They made it a safe and enjoyable environment. My favorite part of the camp day was getting to talk about things that are hard during this time but what makes them a little more bearable. The talk for the girls was about having a strong relationship with the Lord and the different ways he can work in your life. One thing I took away from this was that even when you're going through a rough or a good time God is there working in all different ways but you might not realize right away. Even though we had to be safe I was grateful to see my friends and get to have confession and adoration because I have not been in a long time. Even though it was not the same as Camp, I had an amazing time. - 7th grade girl

H I G H S C H O O L

HIGH SCHOOLER'S PERSPECTIVE

My overall experience at the Youthfest was amazing! It was a great way to revamp, and get back on track with my prayer life, and God. My favorite part of the event was definitely adoration. It was such a peaceful time, and we had an amazing music ministry to lead us in that time of prayer. During the event we were given 3 talks: Sofia Margiotta gave the first talk, which was on trusting God and believing that he has a better plan than any plan we have in mind. She also talked about how trusting God, and giving our lives fully to Him can be "scary business", but there's nothing to be afraid of when you put everything in His hands. The second talk was given by Katy Robles. She talked about how God doesn't see us as how popular you are, or how many likes you get on Instagram, or any of the outside world things, or what we look like, but he see us as who we are on the inside, and how we treat others. The third talk was by Ed Moccia, which was on taking that extra step and falling into God's hands, and trusting in Him. He talked about how he took his children to go cliff jumping, and to get into the water you had to take that step off the cliff, and that's kinda like our lives: we need to be able to take the step off the cliff, and let God catch us and He will lead us to amazing things. Personally I thought the day went really well, and I am super grateful I was able to see my friends. They had priests there for most of the day to hear confessions which was also a huge blessing. - Sophomore girl
